Adjustment on Stock Verification.

Stock found in excess during Verification should be taken as receipts both in the quantity and value accounts, the valuations being made at the current market rate. The value of the stores found ~~surplus~~ surplus should be credited as a revenue receipt or a reception Capital account as the case may be. In the case of stock found deficient the accounts should be examined to see if the short is due to error in accounts. If it is not due to errors in accounts, the short should be shown as losses both in the quantity and value columns in the ledgers and the value debited to "unadjusted items 091" pending recovery from the person responsible for the shortage (or sometimes to write off as the case may be).
